

Air Compressor

by Bob Schroth

Large mining items are becoming more interesting. Like most people, I started with ore cars, but I'm moving up to even bigger toys! Here is an Ingersoll Rand air compressor that I recently pulled out of the California desert. The inside was rusted so I filled the cylinders with diesel fuel, and they have broken free. All the parts move now, and it is pumping air.

