

Tunesian Lamp

by Werner Horning

I have a carbide hand lamp from Tunisia in my collection and it is similar to the construction of the lamp introduced in Issue 29 on pages 4-7 (The Standard), but it has not a separate gas chamber. I think it is of some interest for you and the readers of the Eureka. It is made of sheet iron, and I believe dates to the 1950's. Height: 135 mm, Diameter: 73 mm.
